Hi Jim,

Today, the "FidoMaster1" Twitter account shared Ina Steiner's Ecommercebytes article on Walker's West. The account also shared a series of tweets commenting on various aspects of the story, as well as providing additional media links for Walker's. This includes photos from an unofficial Walker's West Instagram account and a video released by eBay Newsroom.

FidoMaster also highlighted that the project was removed from Hillhouse's website, but provided a link to an archived version of the site. In turn, Ina Steiner updated her original article to include a link to FidoMaster's thread (referred to in the article as 'Dan Davis'), as well as a screenshot of the original Walker's project description from Hillhouse.

At this time, neither of these accounts have made any reference to the other eBay projects that were featured by Hillhouse.

2/ The bar, Wenig's recreation of iconic @WalkersBarNYC is a throwback to internet and gaming company CEO's lavish overspending on 'legacy' facilities and landmarks.

4/ eBay's "Walker's West" lounge has largely maintained a stealth profile. In addition to the links provided by ECB, there's also a Vimeo video

5/ Notably, the contractor page about Wenig's project has already been taken down since @EcommerceBytes shared it...

7/ ECB is on-point with citing #ElliottManagement #PaulSinger #StarboardValue criticism's of @DevinWenig's wasteful extravagant spending, especially on a vanity project. However it does uncover a new photo of Devin Wenig, some might say appropriately dressed as an \$EBAY pirate

Update featured on Ecommercebytes:

Update 5/22/19: As Dan Davis posted on this thread on Twitter, the page featuring details from the contractor who built the replica tavern on eBay's campus has been taken down since we published this post yesterday.

The following is a snippet from a file we created yesterday when the page was still up.

EBAY WALKER'S WEST LOUNGE

- Gensler Architects
 - Tenant improvement to convert on campus historic house from office to lounge space
 - Commissioned by CEO to replicate a known NYC restaurant
 - Custom tin ceiling with intricate can lighting cutouts and LED lit perimeter crown molding
 - New bar counter build out with custom mirrors and lighting
 - High end finishes and detailed elements for historical accuracy throughout
